

ALL PRESENTERS MUST COMPLETE THE DISCLOSURE STATEMENT.

CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION POLICY ON CONFLICT OF INTEREST:

The American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry requires that presenters disclose ANY and ALL, real or potential conflicts of interest. These disclosures must be both in writing to the AACAP at the time of submission and in the course of the presentation at the meeting announced verbally and displayed in your slides.

The conflict of interest policy is designed to assure the highest levels of integrity for the AACAP and its individual members and meeting participants. The disclosure of these conflicts is intended to openly and proactively identify potential conflicts so that members of the audience in the educational activity are able to form their own judgments about the presentation and its merits.

Conflicts of interest represent any relationship which may cause the impression that bias or prejudice could affect the integrity or objectivity of material presented at the AACAP meeting and lead to questions about the speakers' motives. Such conflicts are often in the form of financial interests or other affiliations a presenter has with a commercial sponsor of the educational activity and/or with the manufacturer of commercial products discussed in the scientific program. Financial and other relationships with service providers, organizations, agencies or individuals may also represent a conflict. The existence of such relationships does not necessarily constitute a conflict of interest, but the audience must be informed of the presenter's affiliation both verbally and in the visual materials used in the course of the presentation.

Each participant, including session chairs and discussants, must complete and return a conflict of interest declaration.

I have read the AACAP policy on full disclosure, and I declare that: (Please check one box only.)
