I’m looking forward to welcoming all of you to San Francisco for AACAP’s 59th Annual Meeting, October 23–28 at the Hilton San Francisco Union Square and Hotel Nikko San Francisco.

As I’m now working on my second Annual Meeting as Program Chair, I’m constantly impressed with the high quality submissions we receive and the diversity of the content. It’s my priority to make sure that there is something for everyone at this meeting and I hope you find that to be the case as you browse through the schedule! As always, the large majority of our sessions are accredited for continuing medical education credit—attendees can receive up to 50 CME credits by attending the entire meeting.

We’ve made changes this year in response to your feedback:

■ Complimentary wireless internet throughout the meeting space at both hotels
■ An Annual Meeting Mobile App allowing you to fully navigate the meeting without paper (coming soon in early October)
■ NEW! Data Blitz and Poster Docent programs aimed at helping attendees get more out of our poster sessions (see page 8 for more details)
■ Increased resources from speakers available before, during, and after the meeting, including bibliographies and links to resources
■ PDFs of the Book of Scientific Proceedings and Program Book available for all attendees

This year the Welcome Reception is on Wednesday night and receptions and reunions are on Thursday night. As always, dress is casual for the entire meeting.

If you already know the great value of the Annual Meeting, encourage your friends, colleagues, and students to attend!

Register by September 15 and take advantage of early bird rates!

See you in San Francisco,

Gabrielle A. Carlson, M.D.
Child Psychiatry in the Schools: Best Practices in School-Based Mental Health Systems of Care

Chair: Mark Chenven, M.D.
Monday, October 22
8:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m. (ticket)

Cosponsored by AACAP’s Committee on Community-Based Systems of Care and Schools Committee

The lives of all children and adolescents intersect with schools and the educational system in a profound fashion. Schools are a critical melting pot of social identity, a crucible of socialization, and are central to the cognitive and academic developmental trajectories of America’s children. Child and adolescent psychiatrists can optimally contribute when they are better informed of the multiple dimensions of school and educational life, the nature of the education system, and the evidence-based intervention strategies available to support the health promotion and recovery for children in need of school-linked supports and interventions.

This day-long program explores the psychological, psychosocial, and psycho-educational needs of children and adolescents as manifest in their experiences in the schools. Attendees review policy and best practice considerations in regards to health promotion, screening, assessment, and treatment intervention for students and student groups, with the goal of advancing their knowledge, skills, and attitudes so they can better function as service providers and systems consultants for youth and their school systems. The program informs participants of behavioral health needs and service capabilities in the education system and describes evidence-based and clinically-informed interventions.

Topics and their presenters include:

- Systems of Care Concepts and Practices for Child and Adolescent Psychiatrists
  Mark Chenven, M.D.

- Translating Policy Into Practice: The Systems of Care Agenda for School and Community-Based Services
  Gary Blau, Ph.D.

- School Mental Health in the U.S.: Future Directions
  Sharon H. Stephan, Ph.D.

- Child Psychiatrists Working in Schools
  Jeff Bostic, M.D., Ed.D.

- Child Psychiatry Consultation in Special Education
  Richard Mattison, M.D.

- Bullying and Cyberbullying: Building Resiliency and Reducing Risk
  Elizabeth Englander, Ph.D.

- Model Youth Programs
  Shashank V. Joshi, M.D.

- Parent Engagement and Schools
  Kimberly Hoagwood, Ph.D.

- Opportunities and Challenges for Child Psychiatrists in Schools
  Sheryl Kataoka, M.D.

Travel scholarships, sponsored by SAMHSA’s Center for Mental Health Services, are available to child and adolescent psychiatry residents who are AACAP members. The scholarship includes $750 for travel expenses to AACAP’s 59th Annual Meeting in San Francisco, CA. For more information, please go to:

If you have questions about the Systems of Care Special Program or the scholarships, please contact Adriano Boccanelli at 202.587.9671 or aboccanelli@aacap.org.
Preventing Psychopathology in Childhood and Adolescence

Research Committee Chair:
Melissa P. DelBello, M.D., M.S.

Research Forum Co-Chairs:
Christoph U. Correll, M.D.
Manpreet Singh, M.D.

Tuesday, October 23
8:00 a.m.–4:00 p.m. (ticket)

Sponsored by the AACAP Research Committee

The Research Forum is designed to drive the research policy agenda for child and adolescent psychiatry by creating an environment that encourages scientific exploration and collaboration of investigators across disciplines. The primary audience is researchers, although others are invited to attend.

Illness prevention is the Holy Grail in all of medicine. In psychiatry, where a lack of pathophysiologic understanding of mental disorders has precluded causal treatments, primary and targeted prevention efforts are even more relevant. The importance of prevention is enhanced by the detrimental effect that mental disorders have on quality adjusted life years and by the degree of disability that is associated with mental illness. Since children and adolescents are undergoing critical developmental changes, preventing, or even delaying, the onset of psychiatric disorders that interfere with the attainment of age-appropriate maturational processes is particularly crucial. While prevention science has developed dramatically in the past decades, child psychiatry has only recently branched out into this area.

The 2012 Research Forum introduces participants to principles of universal and targeted prevention in medicine, mechanisms involved in mental illness risk and resilience, and novel clinical applications of psychiatric prevention efforts in youth at familial and clinical high risk for exemplary major psychiatric disorders with pediatric onset. It exposes participants to insights on basic principles of prevention sciences and biobehavioral mechanisms of normal and abnormal brain development, dovetailing these more theoretical aspects with the emerging clinical applications of psychiatric prevention efforts in youth at risk for major psychiatric disorders that often have their origin in childhood and adolescence.

The focus of the morning session is to review the fundamental principles of medical prevention and the basic mechanisms underlying normal and abnormal neuropsychiatric development. Specific goals are to: provide an overview of concepts in prevention science and how they are methodologically approached, review neurobiological mechanisms for developing psychopathology, describe how the environment interacts with brain mechanisms for developing psychopathology, and highlight risk and resilience factors for the development of psychopathology in youth.

The focus of the afternoon session is to review the application of universal and targeted prevention efforts to selected major psychiatric disorders with onset in youth. Specific goals are to: review the early illness signs and symptoms prior to the first full episode, differentiate the symptomatic prodrome from risk markers, endophenotypes, and predictors as much as possible, review/propose high risk criteria, describe early identification and intervention opportunities, discuss enrichment strategies for help seeking high risk patients who are more likely to progress to the full illness and/or have relevant disability, identify strategies for early treatment that have already been or that should be tested, propose a staged intervention schedule for clinicians based on the current knowledge base, and provide thoughts on the transfer and scalability of research findings to clinical practice.

The Research Forum provides ample opportunity for discussion between the audience and the panelists. At the conclusion of the program, participants have an integrated understanding of the rationale, methodologies, experimental design options, and basic, clinical, and translational approaches regarding universal and targeted prevention efforts in pediatric psychiatry.

Topics and presenters include:

Neurobiology of Normal and Abnormal Brain Development
John L. Rubenstein, M.D., Ph.D.
Nina Ireland Distinguished Professor of Child Psychiatry, University of California, San Francisco

Brain Environment Interaction and the Development of Mental Disorders
Joan Luby, M.D.
Director, Early Emotional Development Program and Professor of Child Psychiatry, Washington University School of Medicine

The Science of Medical Prevention
Anthony Biglan, Ph.D.
Director, Center for Prevention of Problems in Early Adolescence, Oregon Research Institute

Primary, Selective, and Indicated Prevention of Psychosis
Christoph U. Correll, M.D.
Medical Director, Recognition and Prevention Program, The Zucker Hillside Hospital, and Associate Professor of Psychiatry, Hofstra North Shore LIJ School of Medicine

Primary, Selective, and Indicated Prevention of Mood Symptoms and Episodes
William Beardslee, M.D.
Director, Baer Prevention Initiatives, Children's Hospital of Boston

Primary, Selective, and Indicated Prevention of Disruption of Conduct Disorder
James Blair, Ph.D.
Chief, Affective Cognitive Neuroscience Unit, National Institute of Mental Health
CLINICAL PRACTICUM

Child-Parent Psychotherapy in Early Childhood: Repairing the Effect of Early Trauma

Tuesday, October 23
8:30 a.m.–5:00 p.m.
(ticket, members only)

Co-Chairs:
Alicia F. Lieberman, Ph.D., Patricia Van Horn, J.D., Ph.D., Robert L. Hendren, D.O.

Co-Presenter:
Chandra Ghosh Ippen, Ph.D.

Location:
Child Trauma Research Program
University of California San Francisco
San Francisco General Hospital

Sponsored by the AACAP 2012 Local Arrangements Committee

The Clinical Practicum chairs look forward to welcoming you to San Francisco General Hospital.

The objective of this year’s Clinical Practicum is to learn about the biological and mental health sequelae of trauma exposure in infancy and early childhood and the key elements of evidence-based treatment for traumatized children in the birth to five age range. The Child Trauma Research Program (CTRP) developed and laid the empirical foundations for the efficacy of Child-Parent Psychotherapy (CPP), an evidence-based treatment for traumatized young children and their parents.

CPP derives its theoretical base from Selma Fraiberg’s “ghosts in the nursery” psychoanalytic model of inter-generational transmission of psychopathology, John Bowlby’s and Mary Ainsworth’s attachment theory, research-based theoretical models of developmental psychopathology and trauma developed by Michael Rutter, M.D., Dante Cicchetti, Ph.D., and Robert Pynoos, M.D., M.P.H., among others, and community-based knowledge of the influence of cultural values and practices on child and family functioning. In keeping with the community mental health mission of the San Francisco General Hospital Department of Psychiatry, CTRP focuses on the application of CPP to low-income children with a high representation of under-served minorities and immigrant families, the dissemination of CPP to community-based agencies, and the application of early trauma principles to create trauma-informed systems of care. Since 2001, the program has been a center of the federally funded National Child Traumatic Stress Network, a SAMHSA initiative with the goal of increasing access to services and raising the standard of care for children, families, and communities across the country. CPP is being disseminated nationally and internationally through year-long, face-to-face and long-distance learning collaboratives and other formats for long-distance training.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS COMMITTEE EVENTS

AACAP is delighted to welcome international attendees to the Annual Meeting and would like to thank the over 275 international speakers on the program for contributing their expertise and perspectives. AACAP’s International Relations Committee has planned some special events just for you, including:

Tuesday, October 23
1:00 p.m.–4:00 p.m. (open)
Symposium 5: International Symposium: Examining Youth Suicide and Prevention Programs IV

Tuesday, October 23
5:30 p.m.–7:00 p.m. (by invitation only)
Networking for International Attendees
This activity is supported by a contribution from Lilly USA, LLC

Thursday, October 25
8:30 a.m.–11:30 a.m.
Clinical Perspectives 14: Global Perspectives on Child Protection and Children’s Rights

These events are sponsored by AACAP’s International Relations Committee. For a complete listing of events with an international focus, visit: http://www.aacap.org/cs/AnnualMeeting/2012/international_events.
Previews from the Pipeline: A Data Blitz Featuring Early Career Investigators

Wednesday, October 24
10:00 a.m.–11:30 a.m. (open)

Chairs: Tamara Vanderwal, M.D. and Thomas Fernandez, M.D.

Come see young child and adolescent psychiatry investigators present their cutting-edge, novel research in a Data Blitz format. The Data Blitz features eight presentations that are each given in just seven minutes with three minutes of Q&A for each presenter. The Q&A is conducted via Twitter and participants get a tutorial about how to use this social media tool. This program provides a unique venue for early career investigators to present data and receive feedback in a high-yield, fast-paced format that is specifically designed for new and developing data sets. Check AACAP’s website in September for the list of presentations.

NEW THIS YEAR!

The Poster Docent: A Guided Tour of Selected AACAP Posters

Tuesday, October 23
3:00 p.m.–4:00 p.m. (open)

Coordinator: Laurence L. Greenhill, M.D.

This year’s AACAP Annual Meeting introduces a new program related to the New Research Poster Sessions. The New Research Poster Subcommittee of AACAP’s Program Committee will identify a hot topic area among the approved poster submissions and select a senior child and adolescent psychiatrist with expertise in that area. As in a museum tour, the “poster docent” pulls together for the attendees the poster content theme, presents on how to view the posters to get the best understanding of the methods and results, and discusses how the posters move the field forward. The posters may occur all on one day or may include content viewed on several different days, depending on the posters selected. Check back in September for more information about the topic.

Lessons From Songbirds about Basal Ganglia Circuits, Social Context, and Learning

Allison J. Doupe, M.D., Ph.D. is Professor of Psychiatry and Physiology and Director of the Center for Integrative Neuroscience at the University of California, San Francisco (UCSF). Dr. Doupe’s talk focuses on the human ability to learn, including the capacity to learn to speak. Songbirds provide one of the few animal models for speech learning: like humans, they must hear the sounds of adults during a sensitive period early in life, and then must hear their own voice while learning to vocalize. They also possess networks of brain regions required for song learning, with many similarities to mammalian brains. One of these regions is a cortical-basal ganglia circuit specialized for song. Cortical-basal ganglia circuits, which are widely conserved across vertebrates, are essential for learning and control of movements, thoughts, and emotions, but remain in many ways mysterious. Because the cortical-basal ganglia circuit for song is specialized for a simple behavior, it is providing very general insights into how such circuits function, both normally and in pathological states.

Lessons From Children About Health Disparities, Social Context, and Methodological Quandaries

Nancy E. Adler, Ph.D. is the Vice-Chair of the Department of Psychiatry and Director of the Center for Health and Community. She is also the Lisa and John Pritzker Professor of Psychology in the Departments of Psychiatry and Pediatrics at UCSF. Her current work examines the pathways from socioeconomic status (SES) to health. Dr. Adler discusses three issues and their implications for understanding disparities in children's health: (1) what is known about the nature and strength of health disparities across the life course, (2) debates about causal direction and the mechanisms responsible for health disparities, and (3) the value of “vigorous” as well as “rigorous” approaches to understanding childhood health disparities.

MAKING THE MOST OF NEW RESEARCH!
The Richness that IS the Academy

Plenary Speaker: Virginia Q. Anthony, AACAP's Executive Director 1973–2012

Wednesday, October 24
8:00 a.m.–9:45 a.m. (open)

The Karl Menninger, M.D. Plenary is supported by Ronald K. Filippi, M.D. in honor of his mentor, Karl Menninger, M.D.

Virginia Q. Anthony, Executive Director of AACAP for 39 years, shares her celebration of AACAP’s rich pageantry of people, places, and events that’s made our community so unique, so diverse, and so very special. Gain insight about the culture of the Academy and child and adolescent psychiatry from someone who’s given so much of her life to our mission.

She’ll touch on the giants, the giant steps, and the baby steps that help make AACAP what it is today. Learn about our humble beginnings, leadership in the American Indian Child Welfare Act, and our strategic dominance in the advent of managed care. Hear about our maneuverings on Capitol Hill and how our collective efforts contributed to mental health parity and the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act. From milestones achieved to forks in the road, this session promises to be enlightening, enjoyable, and entertaining.

Virginia Anthony has had a unique position to posit on the values of the profession, the tough choices, the battles and alliances, marriages and divorces, thunder and libel, and “words you never heard in the Bible.”

Peek behind the curtain and hear how AACAP contributed to regulations, legislation, public policy, and systems delivery and how have we negotiated with pediatrics, psychology, and psychiatry. Let us all relish in the moments, models, behind the scenes pathos, and humanity that this session will surely cover—and uncover!

Think with her about the unique value system that each member brings to the specialty and Academy. Laugh about the human foibles, the sometimes ridiculous and sublime antics of the membership and staff, the amazing assumptions, and membership questions.

Block off time, grab a seat, and be sure to join the team in savoring our history.
Carl Feinstein, M.D. is the Director of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry and a Professor of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at the Stanford University School of Medicine and Lucile Packard Children’s Hospital. He is also the Director of the Stanford Autism Center at Packard Children’s Hospital. Dr. Feinstein received his B.A. from the University of Chicago, and his M.D. from the State University of New York Downstate Medical Center. He did his Psychiatry Residency at St. Elizabeth’s Hospital in the National Institute of Mental Health Training program, beginning in 1969. During this period, he was a Ginsburg Fellow at the Group for the Advancement of Psychiatry (GAP), where he first met Dr. Joseph Noshpitz. This began the inspired mentorship he received from Dr. Noshpitz for the next 13 years, bridging the years of his Child Psychiatry training at George Washington University/Children’s Hospital National Medical Center to the beginning of his academic career there in 1976. Throughout these formative years, Dr. Feinstein was influenced by Dr. Noshpitz’s fascination with the earliest stages of child development, and in particular, child social and communication development.

In this lecture, Dr. Feinstein traces the remarkable advances in understanding of childhood social development taking place, mostly in the last 15 years, in the laboratories of developmental social neuroscientists. About these advances, Thomas Insel, Director of NIMH wrote (2010): “Social Neuroscience has come a long way in a short time…Much of this stunning growth has been driven by human neuroimaging studies seeking the neural correlates of psychological processes, from face perception to social preferences.” While these advances have largely escaped the attention of mainstream child psychiatry for more than two decades, many of the underlying developmental information and research methodology derives from the work of prominent child psychiatrists in the 1970s and 1980s. His thesis is that child psychiatrists, perhaps kicking and screaming, must be brought into a vital engagement with 21st century social cognitive neuroscience, and, in the process, must re-engage with the developmental ideas that we once pioneered, briefly glorified, but then, unfortunately, neglected.

Thank You! Special thanks to the San Francisco Local Arrangements Committee!

Creating an AACAP Political Action Committee: To PAC or Not to PAC?

Thursday, October 25
10:00 a.m.–11:30 a.m.
(open, AACAP members only)

Presenters:
Robert L. Hendren, D.O., Chair
Yiu Kee Warren Ng, M.D.
Christopher R. Thomas, M.D.
Scott Palyo, M.D.
Ruth Gerson, M.D.

After a year and a half of research, membership surveys, and discussion, in June 2011, AACAP’s Council approved the creation of a political action committee (PAC). A PAC is a committee that raises money to make political contributions to candidates for public office that support their issue or industry. AACAP’s current tax status does not allow the creation of a PAC, and a separate, but connected, organization needs to be created. Although your Council voted to take the next steps to establish a PAC, there is much work to be done and member input is necessary. Since a PAC is new to so many members, and with new endeavors comes natural anxiety about change, this Town Meeting helps you understand what the formation of a PAC means for your membership with AACAP. Presenters discuss the pros and cons of creating a PAC, how this affects the current organization’s structure, and what this could mean for AACAP and our membership politically, professionally, and as a nonprofit organization. Attendees also have the opportunity to express their support or concerns about this new endeavor.

“Back to Project Future”: Defining Our Field and Our Future

Thursday, October 25
11:45 a.m.–1:15 p.m.
(open, AACAP members only)

Presenters:
James C. MacIntyre II, M.D., Chair
J. Michael Houston, M.D.
D. Richard Martini, M.D.
David Pruitt, M.D.
Neal D. Ryan, M.D.

Have you wondered what your practice will be like in the coming decade? Have you thought about how training and certification may change for child and adolescent psychiatrists or what research will be done? “Back to Project Future” (BPF), one of Martin J. Drell, M.D.’s Presidential Initiatives, is addressing these questions and developing a plan to guide AACAP members, leadership, and staff. BPF is named in recognition of AACAP’s first “Project Future” that defined the values and identity of child and adolescent psychiatry in the 1980s and 1990s.

In this Town Meeting the BPF leadership group discusses the work of the BPF’s Steering Committee and subgroups. Presenters discuss ideas, trends, priorities, and possible recommendations in the areas of service/clinical practice, training and work force, and research. Presenters respond to questions and obtain input regarding: members’ hopes and fears; where members think child and adolescent psychiatry should be in 2023; and how AACAP can best support its members in the coming decade. This is your opportunity to participate in this exciting project and shape the future of our field.

ATTENTION LIFE MEMBERS!

The following events are sponsored by the Life Members Subcommittee

Thursday, October 25
3:00 p.m.–5:00 p.m. (open)

Life Members Wisdom Clinical Perspectives: Early Contributions to Scientific Evolution in Child and Adolescent Psychiatry: Two Key Concepts

Featuring: E. James Anthony, M.D., Stacy Drury, M.D., Ph.D., Bryan King, M.D., and Peter Tanguay, M.D.

Two Life Members and their mentees examine two key concepts developed early in the history of child psychiatry and how those concepts have contributed to the present scientific framework of child and adolescent psychiatry. The two concepts are Vulnerability and Resilience by Drs. Anthony and Drury and Social Communication Deficits in Autism by Drs. Tanguay and King.

Moderator: Jack McDermott, M.D.
E. James Anthony, M.D.
Stacy Drury, M.D., Ph.D
Bryan King, M.D.
Peter Tanguay, M.D.

Thursday, October 25
6:00 p.m.–8:30 p.m. (by invitation only, separate registration)

PRESIDENTIAL INTERVIEW

Richard Kogan, M.D. has a distinguished career both as a concert pianist and as a psychiatrist. He has been praised for his “eloquent, compelling, and exquisite playing” by the New York Times, and the Boston Globe wrote that “Kogan has somehow managed to excel at the world’s two most demanding professions.”

Dr. Kogan has gained renown for his lecture/recitals that explore the role of music in healing and the influence of psychological factors and psychiatric and medical illness on the creative output of composers such as Mozart, Beethoven, Chopin, Schumann, Tchaikovsky, Rachmaninoff, Gershwin, and Bernstein. He has given these presentations at music festivals, concert series, medical conferences, and scholarly symposia throughout the world. He delivered an address entitled “The Power of Music in Healing Mind and Body” at the World Economic Forum in Davos, Switzerland.

Dr. Kogan has recorded the DVD “Music and the Mind: The Life and Works of Robert Schumann” for Yamaha/Touchstar Productions. In a review of the DVD, Yo Yo Ma wrote “I came away from this extraordinary lecture and performance deeply moved by a fascinating presentation that only Dr. Kogan, psychiatrist and concert pianist, can deliver . . . Through a unique combination of brilliant psychiatric insights and superb musicianship, my musical colleague Richard Kogan presents a rich multidimensional profile revealing some of the most intimate sources of Robert Schumann’s enormous creativity, imagination, and artistry.” Dr. Kogan has won numerous honors including the Concert Artists Guild Award, the Chopin Competition of the Kosciuszko Foundation, the Liebert Award for Applied Psychoanalysis, and a Public Service Award from the American College of Psychiatry.

Dr. Kogan is a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music Pre-college, Harvard College, and Harvard Medical School. He completed a psychiatry residency and an academic fellowship at NYU. He is the Artistic Director of the Weill Cornell Music and Medicine Program and is also the Co-Director of the Weill Cornell Human Sexuality Program. He has a private practice of psychiatry in New York City.

Heidi Buttner Fordi, CAE assumes the role of AACAP Executive Director on September 1, 2012 following Virginia “Ginger” Q. Anthony’s 39 years of leadership. Ms. Fordi has a seventeen year history with the Academy. She joined the AACAP staff in 1995. In 1998, she was appointed Director of Meetings Management gaining accolades for her outstanding contract negotiation and management skills. In 2005, she was promoted to Director of Meetings Management and Continuing Medical Education (CME). In 2007, Ms. Fordi was named Senior Director of Meetings, CME, and Development and Deputy Executive Director. Over the years Ms. Fordi has developed strong relationships with many AACAP members and has been involved with countless AACAP projects and committees. Come to this session to learn more about her and the future of our organization.

The Lawrence A. Stone, M.D. Plenary is named in honor of AACAP Past President and Life Fellow, Lawrence A. Stone, M.D. It recognizes his leadership, vision, and passion to the mission of AACAP. Mrs. Marnette Stone endowed this plenary in loving tribute to her husband.
Institutes are among the most popular Annual Meeting programs because they give a comprehensive and authoritative overview of a topic area in a full-day program. They are a great way to learn about the latest in research and clinical practice in a specific area of child and adolescent psychiatry. Purchase your Institute tickets when you register. Institutes often sell out!

Institute 1 (ticket)

Advanced Psychopharmacology for Clinical Practice

Chair: Timothy E. Wilens, M.D.

Pharmacotherapy serves an important and increasing role in treatment of specific psychopathology in youth. While introductory pharmacotherapy institutes are helpful in orienting clinicians to the major psychiatric disorders and first line treatment, they do not provide adequate information for complicated cases requiring advanced psychopharmacology, including monotherapy of novel agents or combined medication strategies. This Institute provides a higher level of understanding of medications in refractory or more complicated children and adolescents with psychopathology.

- Pharmacological Strategies in Treatment Refractory ADHD
  - Timothy E. Wilens, M.D.

- Advances in the Psychopharmacologic Treatment of Pediatric Anxiety Disorders
  - Jeffrey R. Strawn, M.D.

- Treatment of Children and Adolescents with Psychotic Disorders: From Prodrome to Refractoriness
  - Christoph U. Correll, M.D.

- Pharmacotherapy of Pediatric Obsessive Compulsive Disorder with a Focus on Treatment Refractory Cases
  - Daniel Geller, M.D.

- Tic Disorders and Psychiatric Comorbidity: Strategies for Managing the Complex and Challenging Patient Beyond the Evidence Base
  - Barbara J. Coffey, M.D., M.S.

- Treatment Refractory Depression
  - Graham J. Emslie, M.D.

- Evidence-Based Pharmacological Interventions for Children and Adolescents with Bipolar Disorder and Commonly Comorbid Psychiatric Disorders
  - Melissa P. DelBello, M.D., M.S.

- Pharmacotherapies for Adolescent Substance Use Disorders
  - Deborah Simkin, M.D.

Wednesday, October 24
10:00 a.m.–6:00 p.m.

Institute 2 (ticket)

Bipolar Disorder in Youth: Modern Diagnostic and Treatment Approaches

Chairs: David Miklowitz, Ph.D., Eric Youngstrom, Ph.D., Gabrielle A. Carlson, M.D.

This Institute explores clinical strategies and new research findings on the phenomenology, assessment, differential diagnosis, and course of bipolar disorder in children and adolescents. Participants learn about new approaches to the psychopharmacological and psychosocial treatment of bipolar disorder and gain appreciation for the variability in treatment approaches required to address the needs of different age groups with established bipolar disorder versus high risk or prodromal forms of the disorder.

Phenomenology, Longitudinal Course, and Differential Diagnosis of Pediatric Bipolar Disorder
David Axelson, M.D.

Making the Numbers Work for Us: Epidemiology and Assessment of Pediatric Bipolar Disorder
Eric Youngstrom, Ph.D.

Rages, Mania, and Temper Dysregulation
Gabrielle A. Carlson, M.D.

Pharmacotherapy of Mania and Depression in Youth with Bipolar Disorder
Kiki D. Chang, M.D.

Treatment of Comorbid and High-Risk Conditions in Youth with and At Risk for Developing Bipolar Disorder
Melissa P. DelBello, M.D., M.S.

Psychosocial Treatment Approaches for the Youth and Family
David Miklowitz, Ph.D.

Thursday, October 25
8:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m.

Institute 3 (ticket)

Complexity of Care for Youth in Foster Care

Chair: George A. Fournas, M.D.

This Institute provides clinicians with information on critical topics about traumatized youth who are involved with the child welfare system. Attendees develop an understanding of the rates and types of psychopathology of traumatized youth; learn of efforts to incorporate best practices in the evaluation and treatment of youth in foster care; and gain insight into the utilization of psychotropic medication in this population and mechanisms to provide oversight. Three evidence-based psychosocial therapies that may be used as primary treatment or in conjunction with psychotropic medications are presented.

Introduction
George A. Fournas, M.D.

Promoting Social and Emotional Well-Being for Children Who Experience Maltreatment
Bryan H. Samuels, M.P.P.

The Government Accountability Office Report on Psychotropic Medication Use in Foster Children: Research and Policy Implications
Michael W. Naylor, M.D.

Adverse Childhood Experiences and Their Relationship to Adult Health and Well-Being
Vincent J. Felitti, M.D.

Relational Contributions to Intergenerational Maltreatment Risk
Frank Putnam Jr., M.D.

Providing Effective Treatment to Foster Care Children: Adopting and Adapting Evidence-Based Treatments
Alicia F. Lieberman, Ph.D.

Evidence-Based Pharmacotherapy for Traumatized Youth
George A. Fournas, M.D.

Informed Consent and Oversight of Psychotropic Medications for Youth in Foster Care
Christopher Bellonci, M.D.

Sponsored by the AACAP Adoption and Foster Care Committee, Child Maltreatment and Violence Committee, and Committee on Community-Based Systems of Care
Thursday, October 25
8:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m.

Institute 4 (ticket)

Lifelong Learning Institute: Clinical Practice Update and Lifelong Learning Module 9: Typical and Atypical Development: Protective and Risk Factors, and Relevant Updates for Child and Adolescent Psychiatrists

Chairs: Sandra B. Sexson, M.D., Andrew T. Russell, M.D.

This Institute assists AACAP members to stay current in important issues in child and adolescent psychiatric practice, as well as informs them of current maintenance of certification requirements and what AACAP is doing to help. Recent publications relevant to practice are reviewed in the areas of abuse/trauma, ADHD, depression, suicide, and bipolar disorder. Child and adolescent psychiatrists enhance their clinical practice through a better understanding of variations in sexual development and related clinical and ethical issues; the impact of verbal bullying and cyber-bullying; and optimal treatment of aggression in the ADHD population.

Bipolar Disorder, Mood Disorder, Developmental Disorders, and Development Variables
Gabrielle A. Carlson, M.D.

ADHD and Obsessive Compulsive Disorder Update
John T. Walkup, M.D.

Risk and Protection in Developmental Psychopathology
Adrian Angold, M.R.C.Psych.

Sexual Development, Sexual Orientation, and Gender Identity Issues Update
Richard R. Pleak, M.D.

Update on Forensics, Substance Use, Abuse, and Trauma
Christopher R. Thomas, M.D.

Parental Depression, Child Non-Suicidal Self-Injury, and Child Outcome
David Brent, M.D.

8:00 a.m.–4:15 p.m.

Institute 5 (ticket)

Pediatric Sleep Disorders

Chairs: Roberto Ortiz-Aguayo, M.D., Anna Ivanenko, M.D., Ph.D.

The goal of this Institute is to provide practicing child and adolescent psychiatrists and other professionals with valuable, advanced knowledge on the role of sleep in neurobehavioral regulation in children and to review clinical characteristics and treatment options of pediatric sleep disorders commonly seen in children with psychiatric conditions. Research demonstrates that an appropriate level of quality sleep is necessary for a healthy and productive lifestyle, academic success, and emotional well-being; these are three key elements associated with successful development. A considerable proportion of children and adolescents suffer from sleep disorders and obtain less sleep than they need, and are thus chronically sleep-deprived. This Institute reviews the role of sleep in the emotional and behavioral development of children and adolescents and provides strategies in the identification, prevention and treatment of sleep-related conditions in children with psychiatric disorders or medical disorders. This knowledge helps the participants develop practical tools to successfully recognize and manage sleep problems in their clinical practice and to significantly improve treatment outcomes and quality of life for their patients.

Sleep Basics and Interaction of Sleep and Medical Illness in Youth
David Benhayon, M.D., Ph.D.

Neurocognitive and Cardiovascular Consequences of Sleep
Anna Ivanenko, M.D., Ph.D. and Lisa L. Giles, M.D.

Sleep and Eating Disorders
Anne O’Melia, M.D.

Sleep and Emotion Regulation in Adolescents
Allison Harvey, Ph.D.

Treatment Approach to Sleep Disturbances in Children with Autism Spectrum Disorders
Kyle Johnson, M.D.

Managing Sleep Disturbances in Children with ADHD
Judith Owens, M.D.

Sleep Related Behaviors (Parasomnias) in Children with Psychiatric Disorders
Jess Shatkin, M.D.

Sponsored by the AACAP Physically Ill Child Committee and Training and Education Committee
Friday, October 26
8:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m.

Institute 6 (ticket)
Psychodynamic Psychotherapy in the 21st Century
Chairs: Rachel Z. Ritvo, M.D., Efrain Bleiberg, M.D.
This Institute updates clinicians on advances in research on the evidence base for psychodynamic psychotherapy; on neuroscientific understanding of human development and the human mind; and on focused psychodynamic treatment approaches for anxiety, childhood trauma, depression, and adolescents with comorbidities. Attendees gain knowledge of the scope of empirical research supporting the use of psychodynamic psychotherapy for the treatment of children and adolescents and understand the specific psychodynamic approaches for the treatment of common psychiatric disorders.

Review of the Evidence for Psychodynamic Child and Adolescent Psychotherapy
Peter Fonagy, Ph.D.

A Meeting of Minds: Tensions and Rewards in the Integration of Neuroscience and Psychodynamics
Andrew J. Gerber, M.D., Ph.D.

9:00 a.m.–4:00 p.m.

Institute 8 (ticket)
Fundamentals of Pediatric Psychopharmacology
Chair: Adelaide Robb, M.D.

This Institute provides practical information to primary care clinicians on the use of psychotropic medications in their practices, filling the knowledge gap in training and experience on the use of psychotropics in children and adolescents. Participants gain knowledge of the main categories of psychopharmacologic agents used in children and adolescents and master the initiation and titration of these agents in the pediatric populations seen when in primary care.

Assessment and Treatment of Anxiety Disorders in Children and Adolescents
John T. Walkup, M.D.

The Treatment of ADHD

AACAP Nation highlights all AACAP programs, products, and events! Think of it as AACAP Headquarters during our time together in San Francisco. Resources include: AACAP’s advocacy activities, information on future AACAP meetings and events, AACAP’s Campaign for America’s Kids (CFAK), JobSource, Maintenance of Certification and of course—purchase the newest Lifelong Learning Module!

It’s an excellent opportunity to learn more about the programs, products, and events available through AACAP—all in one central location.

Be sure to stop by AACAP Nation and show your AACAP pride!
These are descriptions of each type of program offered at the Annual Meeting. Each type of program has a unique focus and purpose, so you can pick the programs that best fit your needs.

- Clinical Case Conference Allows clinicians to present difficult case material and includes discussions of diagnostic, clinical formulation, and/or treatment issues. These programs are three hours long and open to all attendees.

- Clinical Consultation Breakfast (CCB) A forum for experts to share clinical wisdom and discuss difficult cases with attendees. These programs are one and a half hours long, require a ticket, and are limited to 15 participants.

- Clinical Perspectives Similar to Symposia, Clinical Perspectives present a particular topic related to treatment, research method, service delivery, or clinical care, which is evidenced-based, but also includes the "art" and clinical wisdom of the practice of child and adolescent psychiatry. These programs are three hours long and open to all attendees.

- Clinical Practicum Provides clinicians with practical guidelines on the assessment and treatment of a specific clinical topic. The Clinical Practicum takes place offsite from the hotel and features facilities that are unique to San Francisco. It is held all day on Tuesday, October 23, a ticket is required, and attendance is limited to 30 AACAP members.

- Committee Meeting Official meetings of AACAP’s Committees and are open to all AACAP members, unless otherwise noted.

- Institute Focuses on “how to do it” with respect to clinical problems, academic areas, or a blending of the two. Institutes are designed for attendees who wish to be taught a comprehensive and authoritative overview of a topic area. Institutes are full day programs and require a ticket. Notebooks with all of the program materials are included.

- Media Theatre Features motion pictures, commercially released documentaries, videotapes, music, and other forms of media relevant to any area of child and adolescent psychiatry. These programs are two to three hours in length and open to all attendees.

- Member Forum An open discussion for AACAP members, about a topic specific to AACAP membership.

- Member Services Forum Designed to provide a practical service to AACAP members, such as training on how to be an advocate or updates on CPT codes.

- New Research Poster Session Authors present the results of data-rich research or clinical reports with opportunity for feedback from viewers. There are six New Research Poster Sessions throughout the meeting, and they are open to all attendees.

- Special Interest Study Group (SIG) Allows individuals with similar interests to share their clinical or research experience, develop collaborations or networks, or discuss mutual interests. These programs are limited to 25 attendees and a ticket is required.

- Symposium Data-driven programs that present perspectives on different aspects of a topic or differing views of the same topic. These programs are three hours in length and open to all attendees.

- Workshop Provides instruction on treatment, research method, delivery, or organization of services, and are designed to encourage discussion in a small group. They are limited to 30 attendees and a ticket is required for attendance.

Looking for Program Descriptions?

In an effort to “go green”, program descriptions are only available on AACAP’s website at www.aacap.org/cs/AnnualMeeting/2012. The website is searchable by date, speaker, type of program, and topic key words, making it easier for you to find the programs you’re looking for!

OPPORTUNITIES FOR MEDICAL STUDENTS AND RESIDENTS

Wednesday, October 24–Friday, October 26

Mentorship Program for Medical Students and Residents (free ticket)

Times vary daily; see the program schedule.

Join more than 200 residents and medical students at the largest FREE Annual Meeting event for trainees! Attendees meet in small groups with child and adolescent psychiatrist mentors and share ideas and advice on career development, balancing personal and professional life, networking, research, and getting involved in local and national advocacy initiatives. Select the ticket for the Mentorship Program when registering!

Sponsored by the AACAP Committee on Medical Students and Residents

Thursday, October 25

7:30 a.m.–9:30 a.m. (ticket)

Medical Student and Resident Breakfast: Inspiration for Success in Child and Adolescent Psychiatry

Wake up early to discover your own inspiration with three distinguished child and adolescent psychiatrists. Marilyn Benoit, M.D., Eugene Beresin, M.D., and Alice Mao, M.D. provide inspiration to attendees by discussing their career aspirations, achievements, and obstacles as child and adolescent psychiatrists.

Sponsored by the AACAP Committee on Medical Students and Residents

10:00 a.m.–12:00 p.m. (open)

Medical Students and Residents: Career Development Forum

Trainees interact with highly regarded child and adolescent psychiatrists and peers who represent a diverse array of professional careers within child and adolescent psychiatry. Experts in various topics answer your questions on steps toward success in your training and career.

Sponsored by the AACAP Committee on Medical Students and Residents

2:00 p.m.–5:00 p.m. (open to all AACAP members)

Member Services Forum 4: NIH Research Priorities and Competitive Grant Writing for Success

Knowledge of National Institutes of Health (NIH) research opportunities, mechanisms, and processes are critical skills for new and established researchers seeking funding for training and research in child and adolescent psychiatry. This Member Services Forum includes interactive discussion on career paths and NIH grant opportunities. NIH staff and senior researchers present current NIH grant mechanisms available for emerging scholars/young investigators and strategies for a successful research grant review, and current NIDA and NIMH research priorities.

2:30 p.m.–5:00 p.m. (open)

Resident as a Teacher: Using Media to Teach from CNN to the Classroom

Trainees improve their teaching skills through a series of interactive workshops. Participants explore using media to teach in the context of giving an effective interview to news media, creating a stimulus video for teaching, and discussing best practices in integrating media into one’s own teaching.

Sponsored by the AACAP Training and Education Committee

Friday, October 26

8:00 a.m.–11:00 a.m. (free ticket)

Member Services Forum 5: ABC’s of Advocacy: Becoming an Effective Advocate for Children’s Mental Health

We all have a role to play in improving policies and services for children and adolescents with mental illness—and your voice is crucial! As part of professional practice, it is imperative that child and adolescent psychiatrists advocate for the important mental health issues that directly address the needs of patients, parents, and practices. Join AACAP’s Department of Government Affairs to learn the skills you need to be an effective advocate. Designed for child and adolescent psychiatry trainees and early career psychiatrists, this seminar helps participants develop the advocacy knowledge and skills that are critical to a child and adolescent psychiatrist’s professional practice. Attendees learn how to engage legislators, work with the media, and partner with coalitions, as well as have the opportunity to put skills into practice.

11:15 a.m.–12:45 p.m. (open)

Resident Town Meeting

The Resident Town Meeting provides residents and medical students with an opportunity to ask questions and discuss hot topics in child and adolescent psychiatry. Learn about AACAP opportunities and provide feedback on what AACAP can do for you in an open forum.

Saturday, October 27

10:00 a.m.–12:30 p.m. (open)

New Research Poster Session 6

Come see all of the latest research completed by medical students, residents, and early career psychiatrists! This year’s recipients of the AACAP Young Leader awards present their clinical and research findings in a poster session.

To access full event descriptions and a list of suggested events, visit: http://www.aacap.org/cs/AnnualMeeting/2012.

Medical Student and Resident Resource Room

The Resident Resource Room is open to all medical students and residents to use throughout the AACAP Annual Meeting! Stop by for:

- Free internet and computer access
- Meeting space to network with other medical students and residents
- Information about AACAP opportunities

Attention Residents and Medical Students:

Order the complete set of MP3 files from all Clinical Perspectives, Honors Presentations, Plenaries, and Symposia for the reduced rate of $99. To order these files, select the “Best Value” rate on the registration form. Institutes not included; discount not available onsite. MP3 orders are non-refundable with the Best Value Package.

Participants in the 2011 Mentorship Program learn about presenting a new research poster from Andrés Martin, M.D., M.P.H. and Joaquin Fuentes, M.D.
TRAINING AND EDUCATION EVENTS

Audience: This educational program is meant for all child and adolescent psychiatrists or other professionals who educate trainees, parents, and communities about adolescent health.

Program Description: Adolescents with behavioral and emotional problems are at markedly greater risk for the negative consequences of risk behavior, such as sexually transmitted diseases, early pregnancy, substance abuse, suicide, and motor vehicle accidents. Effective strategies for teaching and reaching these adolescents, their families and communities are reviewed in a plenary address by Larry Brown, M.D. from Brown University. Dr. Brown actively supports HIV prevention efforts in many communities across the country and internationally.

Drs. Lynn Ponton, Nancy Rappaport, and Laura Whiteley join Dr. Brown in discussing the most effective strategies to teach adolescents about risk behavior including those focused on the media as well as the Internet.

Breakout groups allow participants to discuss the information that was presented in more depth, and to gain skills in the areas of effective responses and proactive strategies for engaging risk-taking youth.

Participants solidify the take-home educational points for best practices in community and school engagement regarding risk-taking behaviors in adolescents.

Don’t miss these other events sponsored by AACAP’s Training and Education Committee:

- Institute 5: Pediatric Sleep Disorders
- Member Services Forum 1: Maintenance of Certification for Child Psychiatry: Strategies for Completion of Performance in Practice Modules
- Resident as Teacher: Using Media to Teach from CNN to the Classroom

Helen Beiser, M.D. Art Show

A man paints with his brains and not with his hands.
—Michelangelo

Join us at the annual Helen Beiser, M.D. Art Show in the Exhibit Hall! We invite AACAP members and family members to showcase their creativity! You may submit an application to exhibit up to three pieces of art. Works may include paintings, drawings, printmaking, potteries, sculptures, calligraphy, poetry, letterpress broadsides, artist’s books, and photographs.

Submission forms for the Art Show are available on the AACAP’s Web site at www.aacap.org/cs/AnnualMeeting/2012. The Art Show is coordinated by the Local Arrangements Committee and the Art Committee.

For more information, contact AACAP’s Meetings Manager at 202.966.7779.

The Art Show is for exhibition purposes only; no pieces are offered for sale.

AACAP Free Book Exchange Program

Sponsored by the Grove School

Don’t know what to do with your old textbooks and journals? Donate your new or slightly used medical publications to the AACAP Free Book Exchange. AACAP is collecting books and other publications that are less than 10 years old for medical students, residents, and/or our international colleagues.

Stop by the Grove School Exhibit Booth Free Book Exchange for the opportunity to share, exchange, or obtain books and journals about psychiatric disorders in children and adolescents.

If you have any questions regarding these donations or need more information, please contact AACAP’s Development Department at 202.587.9660 or development@aacap.org

Nursing Mother’s Room

During the Annual Meeting, nursing mothers or those with young children have a safe and relaxing space to care for their children in the Nursing Mother’s Room. The area is private so mothers can spend a quiet moment with their babies or young children. This area is open throughout the day from October 23-28.

See the onsite Program Book for the location.
AACAP has long been a leader in managing disclosures and potential conflicts of interest that can and do interfere with objective conduct of science and clinical practice. By affirmatively developing and using guidelines to govern extramural support for AACAP meetings and the presentations of meeting participants, we are giving meeting attendees the information necessary to make decisions about the nature of scientific and clinical material available at the AACAP meetings. For more than seven years, AACAP has managed its meetings under the Operating Principles for Extramural Support. The Principles represent a dynamic process designed to serve our patients and profession, and maintain our scientific and clinical integrity. As a result, your awareness and participation are essential to their success. We hope you will take pride in our Principles and your participation in the process.

It has long been important to AACAP and the Program Committee, as we develop and present our meetings, to keep content and presentations independent from sources of funding or other support. These operating principles provide the framework through which members of AACAP, AACAP meeting attendees, and AACAP meeting supporters can preserve the form and substance of AACAP’s high quality scientific and educational programming in the context of full financial disclosure. As part of the submission process and registration for the meeting, each presenter and other attendees must agree to read and abide by these principles.

AACAP membership can assist us in our collective to assure honesty and integrity in our meetings as well as related scientific and clinical activities by becoming familiar with the Operating Principles and monitoring adherence to them. For your reference, the full document is available online at www.aacap.org/cs/AnnualMeeting/2012.

While the Operating Principles is an extensive document that covers many details related to the Annual Meeting, some of the most critical points are:

- Commercial enterprises (including pharmaceutical companies) and other entities related to the AACAP Annual Meeting agree to not have independent presentations during the week of the Annual Meeting at the host hotel or elsewhere in the meeting city.
- No corporate logos may be displayed outside the Exhibit Hall.
- No press conferences or briefings may be held prior to presentations at AACAP meetings nor can sponsors represent AACAP meeting content without specific written permission from AACAP.
- Companies may not contact attendees before the meeting to promote attendance at sponsored events.

Each potential violation of the Operating Principles has been and will be carefully investigated. And disciplinary actions, including banning from participation in the Annual Meeting, have occurred. The Operating Principles are only as good as the level to which we adhere to them.

In this time of our own careful attention to transparency, disclosure, and integrity, you should be proud to have been at the vanguard of setting and maintaining principles and guidelines for behavior. We hope that you will continue to support our collective effort. Thank you for taking this matter seriously. It is your attention to these details that make us stronger and leaders in the ethical practice of medicine.

How You Can Help As an Attendee

- If you know about an event held by a pharmaceutical company during the week of the Annual Meeting that is not listed in the Program Book, please contact Jill Zeigenfus, Deputy Director of Meetings, at 202.966.7719 or jzeigenfus@aacap.org.
- All individuals presenting at AACAP meetings (including presenters, officers, discussants, etc.) must disclose any real or perceived conflicts of interest. This obligation is for all individuals who make public comments at any AACAP meeting.
- Let AACAP know if disclosure policies are not being adhered to. Contact the session Monitor and note these on your evaluation forms.
- When an off-label, investigational, or experimental use of a medication or other product is the subject of a presentation or discussion, disclosure of this status should be clear to the audience, both verbally and in writing.
Attention Exhibitors and Advertisers!

You are invited to exhibit or advertise at the 59th Annual Meeting, the world’s largest gathering place for leaders in the field of child and adolescent psychiatry, children’s mental health, and other allied disciplines.

AACAP encourages all organizations committed to children’s mental health to support the clinical practice and science of child and adolescent psychiatry through our Annual Meeting. We are anticipating attendance of approximately 4,300 medical professionals in San Francisco.

Take the opportunity to...

- Meet with the largest gathering of child and adolescent psychiatrists in the world
- Build brand awareness
- Answer inquiries about your company/organization
- Promote new products and technology
- Obtain direct orders for your company/organization
- Recruit for your hospital or practice
- Gain client referrals
- Support AACAP

Complete details about exhibit and advertising opportunities are available at www.aacap.org/cs/exhibits.

Questions? Contact AACAP’s Meetings Manager at 202.966.7779 or exhibits@aacap.org.

Stop by and meet the JAACAP Editor-in-Chief in the Exhibit Hall!

All attendees at AACAP’s Annual Meeting are invited to visit the Elsevier Booth in the Exhibit Hall on Friday, October 26 from 2:00 p.m.–3:30 p.m. to meet Dr. Andrés Martin, Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry. Under Dr. Martin’s editorship the Journal continues to publish relevant, cutting-edge scientific findings in child and adolescent psychiatry both online at www.jaacap.org and in print.

JAACAP continues to offer online access to abstracts and articles ahead of print, free monthly CME activities, and podcasts of author interviews. You may also have noticed two new features in the Journal—Translations and Clinical Perspectives! Stop by the booth to share your ideas and suggestions about the new series and discover more about the innovations and features available to subscribers of the Journal.

- 3 credits for each Workshop

How do you earn CME credit?

CME credit is earned by attending educational sessions. For each hour you attend an educational session, you earn 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™. It is your responsibility to keep track of the sessions you attend. You should note the sessions you attend in your Program Book and keep it for your records. AACAP does not keep records of registrants’ attendance at individual Annual Meeting sessions.

Is this program accredited?

Yes. The American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Will a record be kept of my 59th Annual Meeting CME activities?

Registrants’ attendance at individual sessions is not recorded by AACAP. It is your responsibility to keep track of which sessions you attend, and claim only those credits commensurate with the extent of your participation in the educational activity. We recommend you note the sessions you attend in the Program Book (distributed onsite at the meeting) and keep it for your records.

How can I obtain a CME certificate from the 59th Annual Meeting?

Within one week following the meeting, attendees are emailed a link to the General Evaluation Form which needs to be completed online. Once completed, you can print or save the CME certificate from your personal computer. Remember to confirm that AACAP has your correct email address when you register for the meeting.

Will I earn CME credits by purchasing the MP3 files, CD’s, or notebooks from AACAP’s meetings?

No. CME credit is not available for MP3 files, CD’s, or notebooks purchased from AACAP meetings.

For additional information on CME please contact Elizabeth Hughes, AACAP Assistant Director of Education and Recertification, at 202.966.1944, or email the CME Department at CME@aacap.org. You may also visit AACAP online at www.aacap.org.

AACAP Ethics Requirement

Programs marked with ETHICS indicate sessions that fulfill AACAP's ethics requirement. AACAP Members are required to do one hour of ethics study every two years which can include reading the AACAP Code of Ethics or Conflict of Interest policies, or AACAP News or JAACAP ethics articles, or by attending Annual Meeting or Board Review Course ethics presentations (at the meeting, on tape, online). This is not a CME requirement. Members should indicate their ethics activities on the membership dues renewal notice. The ethics activity must be related to children and adolescents. This requirement reflects the importance of ethics to the child and adolescent psychiatry practice. For more information, visit:

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Beginning with the 2003 Annual Meeting in Miami Beach, Florida, presenters and participants noticed changes on the registration form primarily related to intellectual property issues. After the 2002 Annual Meeting in San Francisco, California, several companies started offering free Continuing Medical Education programs based on AACAP’s Annual Meeting. These companies erroneously presented these CME programs as if affiliated or sponsored by AACAP. The headline for the announcement was “American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry 49th Annual Meeting,” while the fine print offered disclaimers that AACAP did not endorse the online CME.

The AACAP takes pride in its rigorous development of our CME programs. For this reason, AACAP sought legal counsel which recommended the following:

On your registration form, you are required to sign the following statement:

“By registering for this meeting, registrant grants AACAP and its sublicensee(s) the right to record his/her presentation, remarks, appearance, or other participation, and to reproduce and distribute such recording by any means and for any purpose without payment to the registrant. Registrant also agrees that he/she will not reproduce, distribute, summarize, adapt, publicly perform, or publicly display any presentation or accompanying materials, in whole or in part, for commercial purposes without prior written authorization from the copyright owner(s), nor will registrant use the AACAP name or logo in connection with any commercial use of such materials without written authorization from AACAP.”

At the beginning of each presentation, speakers are required to make the following statement:

“This presentation and the accompanying materials are protected by copyright and may not be reproduced, distributed, or summarized, in whole or in part, for any commercial purpose without prior written authorization from the copyright owner(s). In addition, AACAP’s name and logo may not be used in connection with any commercial use of these presentation materials without AACAP’s prior written authorization.”

VISITING SAN FRANCISCO

Here are some ideas of things to see and places to go while visiting San Francisco from the San Francisco Travel Association. For additional resources to help you plan activities while in San Francisco, visit the San Francisco Travel Association’s website at: http://www.sanfrancisco.travel/.

Neighborhoods to visit:

UNION SQUARE
Home to the AACAP’s Annual Meeting
With its art galleries, outdoor cafes, cable cars, and flower stands, Union Square is filled with the sights and sounds that San Francisco is known for. The heart of the city’s upscale shopping and dining scene is home to virtually every major designer label in stores big and small.

Major Attractions
- Union Square
- Cable car turnaround at Powell and Market
- American Conservatory Theater
- Curran Theatre
- Glide Memorial United Methodist Church

SOMA/YERBA BUENA AND MISSION BAY, SOUTH BEACH
At first glance, “South of Market” (SOMA) looks like a jumble of random building types: renovated warehouses, residential lofts, hip dot-com offices, a large convention center, and more. Though the area is a hodgepodge of mixed-use spaces, it also has a distinct cultural feel of its own.

Major Attractions
- San Francisco Museum of Modern Art
- Yerba Buena Center for the Arts
- AT&T Park
- Children’s Creativity Museum
- Contemporary Jewish Museum
- Museum of the African Diaspora

FISHERMAN’S WHARF
Fisherman’s Wharf is San Francisco’s most popular destination—and it’s no wonder. With its vibrant, festival-like atmosphere, colorful sailboats, delicious seafood, and kitschy maritime themed souvenir shops, the wharf is where San Francisco’s seafaring history comes alive.

Major Attractions
- Pier 39
- Anchorage Square
- Hyde Street Pier
- Ghirardelli Square
- The Cannery
- Alcatraz Island

NORTH BEACH AND TELEGRAPH HILL
North Beach combines the casual, unhurried atmosphere of a charming seaside village with the energy and spark of a big city. By day, poetry-reading Bohemians and cappuccino-sipping young professionals gather in the neighborhood’s lively cafes and boutiques. At night, people flock to the area’s authentic Italian restaurants and trendy bars.

Major Attractions
- Coit Tower
- Washington Square
- City Lights Bookstore
- Saints Peter and Paul Church
- Levi’s Plaza

EMBARCADERO/FINANCIAL DISTRICT AND JACKSON SQUARE, TREASURE ISLAND
This historic port area is a vital urban center, where vintage streetcars blend with skyscrapers, culinary shops, and award-winning restaurants. The area buzzes with caffeine-amped professionals, sophisticated shoppers, and ferry riders.

Major Attractions
- Ferry Building Marketplace
- Port of San Francisco
- San Francisco Railway Museum
- Embarcadero Center
- Wells Fargo History Museum
- Alcatraz Landing

HAIGHT-ASHBURY AND ALAMO SQUARE, COLE VALLEY, LOWER HAIGHT, PARNASSUS HEIGHTS
Haight-Ashbury is famous for its tie-dyed, drug-infused, flower-power roots. In the ‘60s—particularly in the 1967 “Summer of Love” the neighborhood became a haven for hippies and influential psychedelic rock performers. Though it still maintains a slightly gritty, Bohemian ambiance, it is now an eclectic mix of high-end boutiques; vintage clothing, book and record shops; hip restaurants and cafes; and beautifully restored Victorian homes.

Major Attractions
- Corner of Haight and Ashbury
- Buena Vista Park
- The Grateful Dead house
- Alamo Square
CHINATOWN
San Francisco's Chinatown is the oldest Chinatown—and one of the largest Chinese communities—in North America. As soon as you step through the Chinatown entrance, known as “Dragon’s Gate,” you will be captivated by this neighborhood's vibrant colors, scents, tastes, and sounds.

Major Attractions
- Chinese Culture Center
- Chinese Historical Society of America
- Golden Gate Fortune Cookie Company
- Old St. Mary's Cathedral
- Portsmouth Square

MISSION DISTRICT AND BERNAL HEIGHTS, POTRERO HILL
The Mission’s Latin roots and young, urbanite population give it a well-seasoned diversity (think taquerías next door to sushi joints), while Potrero Hill and Bernal Heights are sought-after residential areas.

Major Attractions
- Mission Dolores
- Precita Eyes Muralists Association, Inc.
- Anchor Brewing Co.
- Vermont Street, the “other crookedest street”

CASTRO/UPPER MARKET AND DIAMOND HEIGHTS/ TWIN PEAKS, GLEN PARK, NOE VALLEY
The vibrant, politically active Castro neighborhood is known as the “gay capital of the world.” Its modish stores, sunny outdoor cafés, and jam-packed bars create an electrifying vibe and superb people watching. And the lovingly restored Victorian homes of the Castro and adjacent Noe Valley give the area a friendly, village atmosphere.

Major Attractions
- Castro Theatre
- Harvey Milk Plaza
- Pink Triangle Park
- San Francisco Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender Community Center

CIVIC CENTER AND HAYES VALLEY, LITTLE SAIGON, POLK STREET
In the past decade or so, this area has emerged as a fresh, dynamic destination, combining important government and cultural institutions, picturesque Victorian and Queen Anne townhomes, as well as SoHo-style boutiques and galleries—all of which give it an exciting, up-and-coming vibe.

Major Attractions
- Davies Symphony Hall
- Bill Graham Civic Auditorium
- African American Art & Culture Complex
- Asian Art Museum
- War Memorial Veterans Building
- City Hall

NOB HILL AND RUSSIAN HILL
In the late 19th century, Nob Hill became an exclusive enclave of railroad barons and Gold Rush-era tycoons who built lavish residences overlooking the city. Today, though many of the mansions are gone, the neighborhood’s luxury hotels, wedding-cake-style residences, and beautifully landscaped gardens help it maintain its high-brow character.

Major Attractions
- Grace Cathedral
- Huntington Park
- San Francisco Cable Car Barn & Museum
- Lombard Street
- Nob Hill Masonic Auditorium

MARINA/PRESIDIO AND COW HOLLOW/UNION STREET, GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE, LAUREL HEIGHTS, PACIFIC HEIGHTS, SACRAMENT STREET, THE RICHMOND
With its hilltop mansions, expansive parks and landmark Golden Gate Bridge, the northern section of San Francisco seems made for the silver screen, and many films have been shot here, including “Vertigo” and “Mrs. Doubtfire.”

Major Attractions
- Exploratorium
- Presidio
- Cliff House
- Legion of Honor
- Walt Disney Family Museum
- Fort Mason Center

GOLDEN GATE PARK/SUNSET AND INGLESIDE, OCEAN BEACH/ZOO, PARK MERCED, WEST PORTAL/FOREST HILL
At 1,013 acres, Golden Gate Park is larger than New York’s Central Park. It contains more than 1 million trees, nine lakes, gardens, fountains, waterfalls, and—surprise!—a herd of bison. No matter what your pleasure, the park affords you opportunities to jog, bike, or rollerblade on its paths; boat on Stow Lake; or picnic in its lovely meadows.

Major Attractions
- de Young Museum
- San Francisco Zoo
- California Academy of Sciences
- Conservatory of Flowers

Restaurants to try

Rates: $289 single/double per night

Hotel Description: The Hotel Nikko San Francisco is the overflow hotel for the Annual Meeting and will host several educational sessions daily. It is located directly across the street from the Hilton, just steps from Union Square and all of its shopping and restaurants.

The Hotel Nikko offers the best of both worlds: all the excitement and activities of a world-class city, and all the gracious amenities of a hotel are at your convenience. Enjoy the unique blend of Asian grace and modern conveniences at a premiere Union Square luxury hotel. Hotel Nikko’s rooms offer Subarashee Yume pillow-top beds, high-speed Internet access, large flat panel televisions, stereos, and CD players. Guests may enjoy the indoor fifteen-meter heated pool and whirlpool and health club that’s open twenty-four hours, offering the latest in cardiovascular and weight equipment as well as steam rooms and dry saunas. The hotel also provides a Business Center and Starbucks®.

Hilton and Nikko Hotel Policies:

- When making your reservation at either hotel, ask for the AACAP ANNUAL MEETING GROUP RATE to qualify for these reduced rates.
- These rates are available until Friday, September 28, 2012, or until the group block sells out, whichever comes first, so make your reservations early to secure your room.
- A deposit equal to one night’s stay is required to hold each reservation and upon check-in will be applied to the final night of the reserved stay. The deposit can be paid with a personal check, money order, American Express, Visa, MasterCard, Diner’s Club, or Carte Blanche.
- If you need to cancel your reservation, your deposit will be refunded as long as you cancel at least one week prior to arrival; be sure to obtain a cancellation number.
- If you intend on shortening your stay, please inform the front desk at check in. Otherwise, you will be assessed an early departure fee of one night room and tax.
- All rooms are charged sales tax of 15.58%

Local Transportation
San Francisco Municipal Railway
San Francisco has one of the highest per capita transit ridership in the U.S. It’s no wonder the Muni is a bargain. The fare is approximately $2.00, cable car fare is approximately $5.00. Route information is published on www.sfmta.com or may be obtained by calling 511 or visiting www.511.org.

San Francisco International Airport
Taxis are available 24 hours a day.
$3.50 for the first 1/5 of a mile.
55¢ for every additional 1/5 of a mile.
55¢ per minute for wait times and traffic delays.
$2.00 airport surcharge
Passengers pay any bridge tolls.
San Francisco does not allow taxi companies to charge you an additional baggage fee.
Out of town trips: Taxi driver can collect in advance, except to SFO / OAK airports.

Cable Cars
Cable cars operate along three routes: the Powell-Hyde line which begins at Powell and Market Streets and terminates at Victorian Park near the Maritime Museum and Aquatic Park; the Powell-Mason line which also begins at Powell and Market but terminates at Bay Street just three blocks from Fisherman’s Wharf; and the California Street line which runs from the foot of Market Street to Van Ness Avenue.

Muni Metro or Light Rail Vehicles
Muni operates underground downtown and on the streets in the outer neighborhoods. Six lines are involved: J(Church), K(Ingleside), L(Taraval), M(Ocean), N(Judah), T(Third Street). Historic streetcars (F-line) operate along Market Street beginning in the Castro District and terminating at Fisherman’s Wharf.

Bay Area Rapid Transit (BART)
The BART system links eight San Francisco stations with San Francisco International Airport to the south and 29 stations in the East Bay. Trains operate seven days a week from 4 a.m. to midnight weekdays, 6 a.m. to midnight Saturdays, and 8 a.m. to midnight on Sundays. Visit www.bart.gov.

Golden Gate Transit
This bus service links San Francisco to Marin and Sonoma counties via the Golden Gate Bridge. Visit www.goldengate.org.

CONTRAINDICATIONS

KAPVAY® should not be used in patients with known hypersensitivity to clonidine.

WARNINGS AND PRECAUTIONS

Hypotension/Bradycardia

Treatment with KAPVAY® can cause dose-related decreases in blood pressure and heart rate. In patients that completed 5 weeks of treatment in a controlled, fixed-dose monotherapy study in pediatric patients, during the treatment period the maximum placebo-subtracted mean change in systolic blood pressure was -4.0 mmHg on KAPVAY® 0.2 mg/day and -8.8 mmHg on KAPVAY® 0.4 mg/day. The maximum placebo-subtracted mean change in diastolic blood pressure was -4.0 mmHg on KAPVAY® 0.2 mg/day and -7.3 mmHg on KAPVAY® 0.4 mg/day. The maximum placebo-subtracted mean change in heart rate was -4.0 beats per minute on KAPVAY® 0.2 mg/day and -7.7 beats per minute on KAPVAY® 0.4 mg/day. During the taper period of the fixed-dose monotherapy study the maximum placebo-subtracted mean change in systolic blood pressure was -3.4 mmHg on KAPVAY® 0.2 mg/day and -5.6 mmHg on KAPVAY® 0.4 mg/day. The maximum placebo-subtracted mean change in diastolic blood pressure was +3.3 mmHg on KAPVAY® 0.2 mg/day and -5.4 mmHg on KAPVAY® 0.4 mg/day. The maximum placebo-subtracted mean change in heart rate was -0.6 beats per minute on KAPVAY® 0.2 mg/day and -3.0 beats per minute on KAPVAY® 0.4 mg/day. Measure heart rate and blood pressure prior to initiation of therapy, following dose increases, and periodically while on therapy. Use KAPVAY® with caution in patients with a history of hypotension, heart block, bradycardia, or cardiovascular disease, because it can decrease blood pressure and heart rate. Use caution in treating patients who have a history of syncope or may have a condition that predisposes them to syncope, such as hypotension, orthostatic hypotension, bradycardia, or dehydration. Use KAPVAY® with caution in patients treated concomitantly with antidepressives or other drugs that can reduce blood pressure or heart rate or increase the risk of syncope. Advise patients to avoid becoming dehydrated or overheated.

Sedation and Somnolence

Somnolence and sedation were commonly reported adverse reactions in clinical studies. In patients that completed 5 weeks of therapy in a controlled fixed dose pediatric monotherapy study, 31% of patients treated with 0.4 mg/day and 38% treated with 0.2 mg/day vs 7% of placebo treated patients reported somnolence as a adverse event. In patients that completed 5 weeks of therapy in a controlled flexible dose pediatric adjunctive to stimulants study, 19% of patients treated with KAPVAY® stimulant vs 8% treated with placebo+stimulant reported somnolence. Before using KAPVAY® with other centrally active depressants (such as phe-nothiazines, barbiturates, or benzodiazepines), consider the potential for additive sedative effects. Caution patients against operating heavy equipment or driving until they know how they respond to treatment with KAPVAY®. Advise patients to avoid use with alcohol.

Abrupt Discontinuation

No studies evaluating abrupt discontinuation of KAPVAY® in children with ADHD have been conducted. In children and adolescents with ADHD, physicians should gradually reduce the dose of KAPVAY® in decrements of no more than 0.1 mg every 3 to 7 days. Patients should be instructed not to discontinue KAPVAY® therapy without consulting their physician due to the potential risk of withdrawal effects. In adults with hypertension, sudden cessation of clonidine hydrochloride extended-release formulation treatment in the 0.2 to 0.6 mg/day range resulted in reports of headache, tachycardia, nausea, flushing, warm feeling, brief light-headedness, tightness in chest, and anxiety. In adults with hypertension, sudden cessation of treatment with immediate-release clonidine has, in some cases, resulted in symptoms such as nervousness, agitation, headache, and tremor accompanied or followed by a rapid rise in blood pressure and elevated catecholamine concentrations in the plasma.

Allergic Reactions

In patients who have developed localized contact sensitization to clonidine transdermal system, continuation of clonidine transdermal system or substitution of oral clonidine hydrochloride therapy may be associated with the development of a generalized skin rash.

Other Clonidine-Containing Products

Clonidine hydrochloride should be used with caution in patients with severe coronary insufficiency, conduction disturbances, recent myocardial infarction, cerebrovascular disease or chronic renal failure. KAPVAY® is also approved as an antihypertensive. Do not use KAPVAY® in patients concomitantly taking other clonidine-containing products (e.g. Catapres®).

ADVERSE REACTIONS

Clinical Trial Experience

Two KAPVAY ADHD clinical studies evaluated 256 patients who received active therapy, in one of the two placebo-controlled studies (Studies 1 and 2) with primary efficacy endpoints at 5-weeks.

Study 1: Fixed-dose KAPVAY Monotherapy

Study 1 was a multi-center, randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled study with primary efficacy endpoint at 5 weeks, of two fixed doses (0.2 mg/day or 0.4 mg/day) of KAPVAY® in children and adolescents (6 to 17 years of age) who met DSM-IV criteria for ADHD hyperactive or combined inattentive/hyperactive subtypes.

Commonly observed adverse reactions (incidence of ≥ 2% in either active treatment group and greater than the rate on placebo) during the treatment period are listed in Table 2.

Study 2: Flexible-dose KAPVAY as Adjunctive Therapy to Psychostimulants

Study 2 was a multi-center, randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled study, with primary efficacy endpoint at 5 weeks, of a flexible dose of KAPVAY as adjunctive therapy to a psychostimulant in children and adolescents (6 to 17 years) who met DSM-IV criteria for ADHD hyperactive or combined inattentive subtypes. KAPVAY was initiated at 0.1 mg/day and titrated up to 0.4 mg/day over a 3-week period. Most KAPVAY treated patients (75.5%) were escalated to the maximum dose of 0.4 mg/day. Commonly observed adverse reactions (incidence of ≥ 2% in the treatment group and greater than the rate on placebo) during the treatment period are listed in Table 4.

* Taper Period: weeks 6-8

Most common adverse reactions, defined as events that were reported in at least 5% of drug-treated patients and at least twice the rate in placebo patients, during the treatment period were somnolence, fatigue, upper respiratory tract infection, irritability, throat pain, insomnia, nightmares, emotional disorders, constipation, nasal congestion, increased body temperature, dry mouth, and ear pain. The most common adverse reactions that were reported during the taper phase were upper abdominal pain and gastrointestinal virus.

Adverse Reactions Leading to Discontinuation

Thirteen percent (13%) of patients receiving KAPVAY discontinued from the pediatric monotherapy study due to adverse events, compared to 1% in the placebo group. The most common adverse reactions leading to discontinuation of KAPVAY monotherapy treated patients were from somnolence/sedation (5%) and fatigue (4%). Less common adverse reactions leading to discontinuation (occurring in approximately 1% of patients) included: formulation, vomiting, prolonged QT, increased heart rate, and rash. In the pediatric adjunctive treatment to stimulants study, one patient discontinued from KAPVAY + stimulant group because of bradycardia.

Effects on Laboratory Tests, Vital Signs, and Electrocardiograms

KAPVAY treatment was not associated with any clinically important effects on any laboratory parameters in either of the placebo-controlled studies. Mean decreases in blood pressure and heart rate were seen [see Warnings and Precautions (5.1) in the full prescribing information]. There were no changes on ECGs to suggest a drug-related effect.

Drug Interactions

No drug interaction studies have been conducted with KAPVAY in children. The following have been reported with other oral immediate release formulations of clonidine.

Interactions with CNS-depressant Drugs

Clonidine may potentiate the CNS-depressant effects of alcohol, barbiturates or other sedating drugs.

Interactions with Tricyclic Antidepressants

If a patient is receiving clonidine hydrochloride and also taking tricyclic antidepressants the hypotensive effects of clonidine may be reduced.

Interactions with Drugs Known to Affect Sinus Node Function or AV Nodal Conduction

Due to a potential for additive effects such as bradycardia and AV block, caution is warranted in patients receiving clonidine concomitantly with agents known to affect sinus node function or AV nodal conduction (e.g., digitalis, calcium channel blockers and beta-blockers).

Use with other products containing clonidine

Do not use KAPVAY concomitantly with other products containing clonidine (e.g. Catapres™).

Antihypertensive Drugs

Use caution when KAPVAY is administered concomitantly with antihypertensive drugs, due to the potential for additive pharmacodynamic effects (e.g., hypotension, syncope) [see Warnings and Precautions (5.2) in the full prescribing information].

USE IN SPECIFIC POPULATIONS

Pregnancy

Pregnancy Category C: Oral administration of clonidine hydrochloride to pregnant rabbits during the period of embryo/fetal organogenesis at doses of up to 80 mcg/kg/day (approximately 3 times the oral maximum recommended daily dose [MRHD] of 0.4 mg/day on a mg/m² basis) produced no evidence of teratogenic or embryotoxic potential. In pregnant rats, however, doses as low as 15 mcg/kg/day (1/3 the MRHD on a mg/m² basis) were associated with increased resorptions in a study in which dams were treated continuously from 2 months prior to mating and throughout gestation. Increased resorptions were not associated with treatment at the same or at higher dose levels (up to 3 times the MRHD) when treatment of the dams was restricted to gestation days 6-15. Increases in resorptions were observed in both rats and mice at 500 mcg/kg/day (10 and 5 times the MRHD in rats and mice, respectively) or higher when the animals were treated on gestation days 1-14; 500 mcg/kg/day was the lowest dose employed in this study. No adequate and well-controlled studies have been conducted in pregnant women. Because animal reproduction studies are not always predictive of human response, this drug should not be used during pregnancy unless clearly needed.

Nursing Mothers

Since clonidine hydrochloride is excreted in human milk, caution should be exercised when KAPVAY is administered to a nursing woman.

Pediatric Use

A study was conducted in which young rats were treated orally with clonidine hydrochloride from day 21 of age to adulthood at doses of up to 300 mcg/kg/day, which is approximately 3 times the maximum recommended human dose (MRHD) of 0.4 mg/day on a mg/m² basis. A slight delay in onset of preputial separation was seen in males treated with the highest dose (with a no-effect dose of 100 mcg/kg/day, which is approximately equal to the MRHD), but there were no drug effects on fertility or on other measures of sexual or neurobehavioral development. KAPVAY has not been studied in children with ADHD less than 6 years old.

Patients with Renal Impairment

The impact of renal impairment on the pharmacokinetics of clonidine in children has not been assessed. The initial dosage of KAPVAY should be based on degree of renal impairment. Monitor patients carefully for hypotension and bradycardia, and titrate to higher doses cautiously. Since only a minimal amount of clonidine is excreted in the urine, renal impairment is not expected to affect the pharmacokinetics of KAPVAY.

Adult Use in ADHD

KAPVAY has not been studied in adult patients with ADHD.

OVERDOSE

Symptoms

Clonidine overdose: hypertension may develop early and may be followed by hypotension, bradycardia, respiratory depression, hypothermia, drowsiness, increased or absent reflexes, weakness, irritability and misiss. The frequency of CNS depression may be higher in children than adults. Large overdoses may result in reversible cardiac conduction defects or dysrhythmias, apnea, coma and seizures. Signs and symptoms of overdose generally occur within 30 minutes to two hours after exposure.

Treatment

Consult with a Certified Poison Control Center for up-to-date guidance and advice.

Add KAPVAY® to a stimulant—
achieve significant symptom improvement 1,2

• In the add-on trial, KAPVAY® demonstrated efficacy at week 5 (primary end point as measured by the ADHD RS-IV Total Score) with statistically significant symptom improvement seen as early as week 2 1,2

Offer convenient flexibility to your patients

• KAPVAY® can be administered with or without food 3

• When KAPVAY® is added to a stimulant, the dose of the stimulant can be adjusted/reduced depending on the patient’s response 3

Indication
KAPVAY® (clonidine hydrochloride) extended-release tablets are indicated for the treatment of attention deficit/hyperactivity disorder (ADHD) as monotherapy or as adjunctive therapy to stimulant medications in children and adolescents ages 6-17. The efficacy of KAPVAY® is based on the results of 2 clinical trials in children and adolescents. KAPVAY® is indicated as an integral part of a total treatment program for ADHD that may include other measures (psychological, educational, and social) for patients with this syndrome. The effectiveness of KAPVAY® for longer-term use (more than 5 weeks) has not been systematically evaluated in controlled trials; therefore, the physician electing to use KAPVAY® for extended periods should periodically re-evaluate the long-term usefulness of the drug for the individual patient.

Important Safety Information
• KAPVAY® should not be used in patients with known hypersensitivity to clonidine
• KAPVAY® can cause dose-related decreases in blood pressure and heart rate. Use caution in treating patients who have a history of syncope or may have a condition that predisposes them to syncope, such as hypotension, orthostatic hypotension, bradycardia, or dehydration. Use with caution in patients treated concomitantly with antihypertensives or other drugs that can reduce blood pressure or heart rate or increase the risk of syncope
• Somnolence/Sedation were commonly reported adverse reactions in clinical studies with KAPVAY®. Potential for additive sedative effects with CNS-depressant drugs. Advise patients to avoid use with alcohol. Caution patients against operating heavy equipment or driving until they know how they respond to KAPVAY®
• Patients should be instructed not to discontinue KAPVAY® therapy without consulting their physician due to the potential risk of withdrawal effects. KAPVAY® should be discontinued slowly in decrements of no more than 0.1 mg every 3 to 7 days
• In patients who have developed localized contact sensitization or other allergic reaction to clonidine in a transdermal system, substitution of oral clonidine hydrochloride therapy may be associated with the development of a generalized skin rash, urticaria, or angioedema. Use cautiously in patients with vascular disease, cardiac conduction disease, or chronic renal failure: Monitor carefully and up titrate slowly
• Clonidine may potentiate the CNS-depressive effects of alcohol, barbiturates or other sedating drugs
• Use caution when KAPVAY® is administered concomitantly with antihypertensive drugs, due to the additive pharmacodynamic effects (e.g., hypotension, syncope)
• KAPVAY® should not be used during pregnancy unless clearly needed. Since clonidine hydrochloride is excreted in human milk, caution should be exercised when KAPVAY® is administered to a nursing woman
• Caution is warranted in patients receiving clonidine concomitantly with agents known to affect sinus node function or AV nodal conduction (e.g., digitalis, calcium-channel blockers and beta-blockers) due to a potential for additive effects such as bradycardia and AV block
• Clonidine, the active ingredient in KAPVAY®, is also approved as an antihypertensive. Do not use KAPVAY® in patients concomitantly taking other clonidine-containing products, (e.g., Catapres®, JENLOGA)
• Common adverse reactions (incidence at least 5% and twice the rate of placebo) include: somnolence, fatigue, upper respiratory tract infection, irritability, throat pain, insomnia, nightmares, emotional disorder, constipation, nasal congestion, increased body temperature, dry mouth, and ear pain
